VOL. VI. No. 19. NEW-YORK, Saturday, November 7, 1874. WHOLE No. 147.

WILL BE PUBLISHED NOV. 12th,
A SUPERBLY ILLUSTRATED BOOK OF TRAVEL.
TRAVELS ACROSS SOUTH AMERICA,
FROM THE PACIFIC OCEAN TO THE ATLANTIC OCEAN.

By PAUL MARCOY.

Illustrated with Five Hundred Engravings on Wood.

Drawn by E. RIOU, and maps printed in colors from drawings by the author. Two vols. 4to, elegantly bound in cloth, full gilt, $15.

This is by far the most superbly illustrated work of travel ever offered for sale in this country. The engravings are throughout executed with surprising delicacy and finish; the designs show that grace in execution of which French artists only seem capable, and the text introduces us into a region which, although abundantly interesting, is by no means so well known to us as are many countries which are more remote from us. In all mechanical details, these volumes represent the very perfection of book-making.

From the London Times.

M. MARCOY has a full share of the spirit, vivacity, and garrulity which make a French traveler the most charming of companions in his own book. With sufficient science to write with intelligence and exactness of the flora and fauna of the country he visits, of the ethnological and idiomatic distinctions which characterize these tribes of Indians, his strongest point and the chief attraction of his work is his great skill as a draughtsman. He sketches nearly every thing which he describes, and gives us 500 pictures of the life, manners, and scenery which come under his eye. Such a book is a treat which the English reader does not often get. If, which we hope will not prove to be the case, the British public will not believe that there is more sound instruction in such a work as this than in a geographic manual, and more amusement than in a novel, we can only say, let him alone.

For sale by all booksellers.

TAKE PLEASURE IN ANNOUNCING THAT ON

Tuesday, November 10,

THEY WILL PUBLISH

THE HANGING OF THE CRANE,

BY HENRY WADSWORTH LONGFELLOW.

THIS CHARMING POEM CELEBRATES THE LIFE OF THE HOUSEHOLD

From the Hanging of the Crane (a French expression, equivalent to our "House-Warming") to the Golden Wedding. In a series of scenes, the poet depicts successive eras and incidents in the experience of the family, its joys and solitudes, its happy accessions by birth and afterward by marriage, its festivals and partings, and all that enriches and gladdens family life.

The New-York Herald says: "He has created a lovely and touching picture of domestic happiness, which deserves a place in his own luminous gallery. The tone of the poem is delightful; that grace in which the verse of Longfellow always moves, as if to an inward tune, is here unsurpassed."

The poem is admirably adapted for illustration, and the poet's word-pictures have been most faithfully and sympathetically reproduced in the sixty drawings that embellish the volume. These were made by

Miss M. A. Hallock and Mr. Thomas Moran,

Whose aptitude for drawings of this kind is unsurpassed; and were engraved by

Mr. A. V. S. Anthony and Mr. W. J. Linton,

THE FIRST OF ENGRAVERS ON WOOD.

The Boston Sunday Times, referring to Miss Hallock's designs, remarks: "There is a peculiar charm, aside from their intrinsic beauty, connected with the illustrations by Miss Mary A. Hallock, who has never before so conspicuously appeared before the public. After her exquisite treatment of her subjects in the 'Hanging of the Crane,' competent critics pronounce her the best artist in figure drawing for illustrations for books in the country. This is saying a good deal, but when we consider the high authority from which these reports come, there is ample reason to believe that a genius in this art has come to light."

No care or pains have been spared to render the book a perfect product of artistic effort. Designers and engravers have sought to immortalize the "Hanging of the Crane" by their art as the poet has immortalized it in his delightful verse.

The volume is printed and bound in the most tasteful style, and forms

ONE OF THE MOST ATTRACTIVE GIFT-BOOKS

NOTES IN SEASON.

THE Messrs. Macmillan will shortly publish an American edition of Baron Huebner's "Journey Around the World." The book, when first printed in the original French, enjoyed the honor of review in nearly all the English periodicals, and has been spoken of in the highest terms. It is exceedingly entertaining, and one of the most interesting books of travel since Mr. Seward's, and as compacted into a neat 12mo volume for special circulation in this country, ought to do well.

THE Appletons will publish this month the first part of Herbert Spencer's "Principles of Sociology," in a pamphlet of about 80 pages. This is the concluding division of his great series on Evolution, and its appearance is looked forward to by thinkers with the greatest eagerness. "The History of Culture," by Mr. Hittell, the new California writer; an important book on Railway Earthworks; Knatchbull-Hugessen's new book of fairy stories, and, in the subscription department, the biographies of Professor Morse and Gen. Lee, will also be ready during the month.

THE Osgoods' chief holiday-book, and perhaps the most important that will be issued of American production, will be an illustrated edition of Professor Longfellow's poem, "The Hanging of the Crane." As artists, the publishers have wisely chosen Mr. Thomas Moran and Miss Mary A. Hallock. Mr. Moran's work is among the strongest, and Miss Hallock's among the most charming, especially for interiors, that is done in this country, and the poem presents a variety of opportunity to the artists, such as is enjoyed by very few poems brief enough to be illustrated in a holiday-book. We look forward to the widest popularity for this book that has been enjoyed by any holiday publication for a long while, and every bookseller in the country ought to place it on his counter as soon as it is published, which will be about the tenth of this month.

THE trade will note a reduction of twenty-five cents in Macmillan's admirable Nature Series, which now retail at one dollar each.

THE Messrs. Scribner propose to publish an edition of Guizot's "History of France," uniform with their Mommsen, Curtius, and Froude.

Now for Work!

THE friends of the book trade reform have now nothing more to ask in the way of legislation, and little more in that of organization. We need local associations to complete the machinery of action, but the legislation itself has been already accomplished in the American Book Trade Association, the Western and Central Booksellers' Associations, and the Publishers' Board of Trade. These have done all that any can at present ask for the reform of the trade.

But laws, or rules and regulations, amount to little, unless they are made the basis of practical work. The reform is a success, and yet its success remains to be determined. Opportunity may yet be thrown away, if those who have been put in charge of the active work fail at this crisis to do their full duty. Already there are many friends of the reform who are becoming lukewarm, because of the dilatoriness of others. We can not afford to lose these friends. What is now wanted is thorough work to bring all the members of the trade, especially in the great centres, into these associations, and make the rules operative at once. This work resides primarily in the executive committee of the national association, and we call at once upon this body to lose no time in having every member of the trade in New-York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, Cincinnati, and other centres, large and small, visited and pressed to join the association, by affixing their signatures to its provisions. It has been found that even those who already sympathize strongly with the reform are not likely to come into it unless they are asked, and the reform will lose strength, instead of gaining, with every day that they are left unasked. We have already had many suggestive queries made to us on this subject. We say, as strongly as we can say, that the executive officers of the national and the other associations have the whole matter now in their hands. The trade look to them for effective and immediate work that shall settle the question once for all, and settle it in the right way.

WE notice that the Western trade are being greatly troubled by a feature of underselling which is best exemplified by an advertisement in the Chicago Post and Mail, which, "having made very favorable arrangements with Eastern publishers, will furnish its subscribers with books and periodicals" at, as a rule, twenty per cent discount. This is a case which should be looked after by the publishers and jobbers. We beg leave, in behalf of the Western trade, to call their attention to the matter.

[OFFICIAL.]

Publishers' Board of Trade.

SUMMARY of minutes of a special meeting, held October 28th:

The committee appointed at the previous meeting, to consider the request of the Central Booksellers' Association, in regard to discounts on school-books outside of the trade, reported the following proposed By-law, which was adopted:

XXXI. School-books and other Articles enumerated in By-law XI. shall be sold at no greater discount than 20 per cent from the published retail prices, with the following exceptions:

1. Supplies for first introduction. [See By-law XI.]
2. Specimen copies for examination. [See By-law VIII.]
3. To school boards and state normal schools created by law, and authorized to purchase books or supplies from public funds.
4. To schools supported by religious and benevolent societies purchasing their own supplies.
5. To such merchants as deal in books and other articles named in By-law XI.

GEORGE R. LOCKWOOD,
Secretary.

BOOKS RECEIVED.

THE OLD WOMAN WHO LIVED IN A SHOE, by Amanda M. Douglas. (Wm. F. Gill & Co.) The old woman of this story, "who had so many children she did not know what to do," is a real old woman of the present day, and not the dame sung of in Mother Goose. She delights in the possession of six bright and mischievous grandchildren, who love her dearly, and who take the "broth without any bread," and the "thrashing all round," with equal serenity. Each one, in the beginning of the story, tells just what he would like his life to be if he had the power of choosing. The way in which the various dreams are realized is very cleverly and amusingly carried out. This book is one of the best juveniles out. The style in which it is written is fresh, graceful, and witty, and the story itself quite out of the ordinary run of stories. Illustrated, 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN EXPECTED, by Frank R. Stockton. (Dodd & Mead.) Two children, Kate and Harry Loudon, take it into their heads to support a poor old colored woman, who, too superannuated to help herself, is about being sent to the almshouse. Their efforts in her behalf make a most delightful story for the young folks. They are intelligent and clever children, and discover many resources for making money, such as gathering sumac leaves, which are sold in great quantities in Virginia, hunting game, knitting socks and tidies, and even hauling wood. The title gives the idea somewhat that their plans were not well carried out, while they are in reality crowned with the greatest success, "just what might have been expected of such a boy and such a girl." 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

GENTIANELLA, by Mrs. Randolph. (Porter & Coates.) The "International Series," of which this is the latest addition, bids fair to become an established favorite. It consists already of a number of good novels taken from different foreign sources. The present volume, by an English writer entirely unknown here, is a novel of considerable merit. It has a very romantic plot, and a very lovely heroine—its characters being all taken from English fashionable life, some of them being quite original. 12mo, cloth, $1.25.

LITTLE CLASSICS, Vol. III., edited by Rossiter Johnson. (James R. Osgood & Co.) "Tragedy" is the title of the new volume of the dainty little classics. The seven stories which go to make up its contents are all remarkable. It is pleasant to find them thus grouped together, with the certainty that they are well worth reading. The opening story is Poe's "The Murders in the Rue Morgue;" this is followed by "The Lauson Tragedy," by J. W. De Forest, "The Iron Shroud," by William Mudford, "The Bell Tower," by Herman Melville, "The Kathayan Slave," by Emily C. Judson, "The Story of La Roche," by Henry Mackenzie, and "The Vision of Sudden Death," by De Quincey. Red-edged. 16mo, cloth, $1.

TAKE A PEEP, by Paul Cobden. (Lee & Shepard.) This little volume is made up of a collection of short stories, most of which appeared in the "Independent," where they were eagerly read, on account of their brightness and cleverness. 16mo, cloth, $1.25.

PRAIRIE AND FOREST, by Parker Gillmore. (Harper & Bros.) The author fully justifies his nom de plume of "Ubique," for he seems to have been everywhere on the North-American continent in the pursuit of game. He has hunted bears and buffalo, moose and antelope, wolves and foxes, woodcock, wild turkey and grouse, and has wonderful stories to relate of his adventures in search of each; with any amount of useful information for the hunter, and also for the general reader, about the birds and animals of North-America. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

WE have received from Pott, Young & Co. four charming books for the young folks. They are all printed in large type, profusely illustrated, and most attractively gotten up. "The Life of an Elephant," by the author of "The Life of a Bear," contains 24 illustrations, and is a very suitable book for a boy, 12mo, cloth, $2.50.—"May's Own Boy" is embellished by 24 of Frölich's inimitable pictures of little children, 12mo, cloth, $2.50.—"Mrs. Mouser; or, Tales of a Grandmother," is by the author of "Aunt Annie's Stories," and is all about a family of very interesting cats, 12mo, cloth, $2.50.—"Clement's Trial and Victory," by M. E. B., and illustrated by G. Lupton, is for older children than the three first-named books, and is not printed quite so large, 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

HAZEL-BLOSSOMS, by John Greenleaf Whittier. (James R. Osgood & Co.) A collection of the poet's later poems, added to which are a few pieces written by his sister, Miss Elizabeth H. Whittier. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

STATIONERY AND FANCY GOODS.

THE market for fancy goods and stationery this week is without special interest, owing chiefly to the late political campaign. Now that the battle has been fought, however, merchants are returning to their regular duties, and, though late in the season, a good trade is anticipated. The result of the campaign is looked upon with satisfaction, as it is now thought that the next Congress will give all necessary attention to the questions of currency and specie payments, and settle the financial policy of the country upon some positive basis. Though the last Congress made many attempts to decide the financial questions before them, it is but just to say that no one appeared who was sufficiently well versed in the exigencies of the moment to cope with the points at issue. The result of the election has been to put many new men in responsible positions; Congress has undergone a much-desired addition to its membership, and it is this infusion of new blood which is expected to produce additional vigor, which, it is hoped, will result in a general betterment.

In stationery, the season has so far been dull, but the importations have been smaller than usual, and but few goods remain on hand unsold. With domestic papers, the case is the same. The manufacturers have only been working on limited time, and what stock has been produced has been disposed of. This is the case generally, with the exception of fine writing-papers, which have accumulated upon the hands of the manufacturers, who, in order to get rid of them, have been compelled to lower their prices. This is, of course, disastrous, but sales have in this manner been effected, and money has been put in circulation that under other circumstances would have remained idle. In blank-books and standard stationery there has been a tolerable trade.

The trade in fancy goods has been rather brisk, and both the importers and dealers are now preparing for the holiday season. The importations thus far have been somewhat less in the aggregate than they were last year, but they have been sufficient to answer all demands. The trade complains about the numerous inconveniences to which importers have been put at the Custom-house, but they look forward to the next Congress for a remedy. The fact that a remedy is at all obtainable has inspired confidence, and the business for the coming month, it is thought, will be both brisk and profitable.

There are but few novelties upon the market either in stationery or fancy goods, but among the few may be mentioned a new chess-board, offered by Mr. Willy Wallach. This article is manufactured of native woods, handsomely inlaid, and it folds up to a convenient size for carrying. They sell for $5—thirty per cent off.

The double repp papers have become quite popular, and are now used in great quantities for fine circulars, invitations.

Messrs. Porter & Coates have issued a handsome list of autograph and writing albums. The former sell from $4 to $24 per dozen, and the latter at from $1 to $4 per dozen. They are of all sizes and styles, and the rates are such as to commend them to every one.

Messrs. Milton Bradley & Co. have issued a number of highly instructive games for the coming holidays. We may here specify the game of Bible Characters and Events, Corona, or Banner and Crown, and the game of American History of Patriots of the Revolution. These games are all new, and they will all be found highly instructive. They are all of an entirely new character, and not, as is too often the case with new games, an old system of playing under a new name. For fireside amusement nothing could be better.

LITERARY AND TRADE NEWS.

A MEETING of the Central Booksellers' Association, adjourned from that of last month, will be held at the St. Nicholas Hotel, parlor G, on Tuesday next, at 11 o'clock. It is important that all the members should be present at that time.

MESSRS. BANGS, MERWIN & CO. hold their usual fall parcel sale, Nov. 17th and following days, and will then offer several invoices of fresh books from leading publishers, including D. Appleton & Co., Lee & Shepard, Scribner, Welford & Armstrong, and other prominent firms of New-York, Boston, and Philadelphia.

MR. J. T. TROWBRIDGE is one of our best story-tellers in verse, and his dramatic force has full play in the subjects he selects. It is no wonder, then, that the poetry of the author of "The Vagabonds" is popular; his new volume, "The Emigrant's Story, and other Poems," just ready at the Osgoods, has very many of these taking pieces which have already given him favor among the people, besides his poetical version of the story of Columbus, told to a child.

MESSRS. A. J. BICKNELL & SON announce a reduction in the price of "Wither's Church Architecture" from $20 to $15. They consider the work well worth the original price, but make the reduction to bring it within the reach of all desiring a first-class work on the subject.

HON. A. G. RIDDLE, author of "Bart Riddleley" and "The Portrait," has written a political novel, which will be published by the Appletons during the current month. Its scene is laid in Washington, in the year next following the close of the war, and it is crowded with realistic portraits and photographs of scenes.

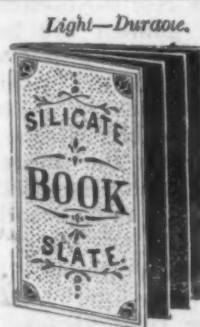

REV. W. C. GANNETT has written the life of his late father, Rev. Dr. Ezra S. Gannett, and it will be published by Roberts Brothers.

MESSRS. GOULD & LINCOLN publish new issues of the "Historical Evidence of the Truth of the Scripture Record Stated Anew," by George Rawlinson, and "The Limits of Religious Thought Examined," by H. L. Mansel. They are both in neat shape, and their reissue is timely.

PORTER & COATES state that they have now ready "South Meadows," by Miss E. T. Disoway, a new writer in American fiction. It is a tale of New-England during the seventeenth century, and much interesting information regarding the noted Salem witchcraft trials is introduced in its pages. Also, "The Stately Homes of England," by Llewellyn Jewitt, F.S.A., and S. C. Hall, F.S.A., two gentlemen of high reputation in literary circles. It is a beautifully illustrated gift-book, containing over 200 superb engravings, and it will doubtless be one of the most popular of this year's holiday-books. Among the homes described are many which are chosen, not for their stateliness alone, but because the true nobility of their owners allows their beauties, their splendor, and their picturesque surroundings to be seen and enjoyed by all.

The great superiority of this Record over others consists—

1. In its simplicity of arrangement; it is easily understood and one Librarian can do the work that would require two or three by the ordinary method.
2. It effectually prevents the borrowing by the scholar of more than one book at a time without the knowledge of the Librarian, which, where other records are used, is frequently done.
3. It enables the Librarian to discover at a glance the name of the borrower and the number of each book loaned.
4. With this system, after a book is returned to the Library, it is impossible for the Librarian knowingly to loan it again without cancelling the previous record.
5. This record may be kept accurately without the Librarian being able to write a word or figure.
6. The record can, with care, be made to last for quite a number of years.
7. In the absence of the Librarian, any teacher or scholar can keep the record without danger of being led to commit a single error in loaning, either by the mistakes or false representations of those desiring to borrow.
8. Other systems are expensive, or difficult to manage; this is so simple that a child can manage it without danger of making a mistake, and so cheap that the poorest school will save money by using it.

Librarians have informed us that prior to using the Register, the money expended annually in replacing lost books would have paid for it several times over; since using it they have not lost any.

PRICE OF THE REGISTER.

A NEW SENSATION
In the Literary World.
MARIA MONK'S DAUGHTER.
An Autobiography.

By MRS. L. ST. JOHN ECKEL.

The reader of one of the most prominent publishing houses in the United States says of it: "This is the most astonishing manuscript ever offered for my opinion, and causes one promptly to exclaim, 'Truth is stranger than Fiction.'" "It is a most powerful and highly dramatic work, evidently truthful throughout."

A former well-known publisher, not now in business, says of it: "This remarkable production will create a great sensation in the literary world." "It is replete with interest from the start." "By those who believe in the supernatural, the revelations will be read with wonder and belief." "The most interesting scenes lie in France; at the Court of the Emperor, and among the convents and other religious institutions in Paris."

The same writer (not a Catholic) also says: "No such plea or argument for the Catholic faith has ever been read by me."

Dr. Brownson, in his Review, says: "It is a remarkable book. Perhaps it will be no exaggeration to anticipate that it will prove the most famous work of the season. The persons introduced belong to every class of society, many of them well-known to us all." The author is a "remarkable woman," and her book "an equally remarkable book. There is not a dull page in it." Crown 8vo, 630 pp. Illustrated, Price, $3.50.

For sale at all bookstores, or sent by mail, post-paid, by the publishers, on receipt of price.

THE PATENT EVERLASTING INDIA RUBBER COPYING SHEETS

OFFER THE FOLLOWING ADVANTAGES:

FIRST—A great saving of time, as any number of letters can be copied at once, and the paper being used dry, it can be handled quicker and better.

SECOND—A great saving in material, as brushes, blotting-board, and oil paper are not needed, and the copying books are not weakened by becoming saturated with surplus water.

THIRD—The copies obtained are sharper, clearer, and more uniform than those made in the usual way.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.

Wet a lot of the India-rubber sheets, and wring them well out, so that only a slight dampness remains (they must by no means be left wet, only slightly damp); put one of the damp India-rubber sheets in the copying-book, and on that place a dry sheet of the copying-book, and upon this the written letter, and repeat this operation as many times as you have letters to be copied. One sheet may be used to copy two letters, by placing one above, the other below it.

The India-rubber sheets, if dampened in the morning and placed between tin, will remain damp all day long, and may be used four or five times without losing their dampness.

THE NON-SPILLING PRESSURE INKSTAND.

No. 2 Complete.

3 Inch. in Diameter

NO. 3838 TAKEN APART.

STAND.

FUNNEL AND RUBBER SHIELD.

TOP WITH PEN RACK.

Is the best and handiest Inkstand now in use for the following reasons :

- 1st. It is always closed and preserves the ink from contact with the air.
- 2d. Although closed, the ink is always accessible to the pen.
- 3d. Whether there is much or little ink in the inkstand, the pen always takes the same quantity, and not more than required.
- 4th. Ink is obtained quicker from it than from any other inkstand, a desideratum for rapid writers.
- 5th. No blots are made; any surplus of ink on the pen being drawn back by the funnel.
- 6th. The ink being stirred up every time it is used, always remains uniform and fresh.
- 7th. The inkstand may be dropped or upset without spilling a drop of ink.

DIRECTIONS.

To pour the Ink into the Inkstand:

Take off the top by turning it to the left, and close it by pushing it slightly down, and then turn towards your right.

To take Ink.

Plunge the pen perpendicularly to the bottom of the porcelain funnel and press it slightly. The pen bearing upon the sides will not suffer. The necessary pressure is so little that after a short time it will be exercised unknowingly.

The India rubber shield and funnel should be washed every two or three months, according to kind of ink used.

N. B.—If by increased temperature, a little ink should remain in the funnel, it is only necessary to open the inkstand, to raise the rubber so as to let the air out, and then close it again.

By following these directions everybody will soon acknowledge that this inkstand has a great and uncontestable superiority over all others.

JUST OUT.

Nathaniel Vaughan: A Novel. By FREDERIKA MACDONALD. 1 vol., extra cloth. 12mo, 404 pp. $1.50.

"A study of character in the law of circumstance such as even George Eliot might not have been ashamed to own as her first novel."—Westminster Review (in a notice of over a column in length).

"There is much of power and of interest in this novel. The characters are set before us by a few graphic and able touches, not as puppets, but as living beings."—Pull Mall Gazette.

"Power, eloquence, and originality characterize 'Nathaniel Vaughan' to a degree very unusual among modern novels. The shipwreck of a noble nature has seldom been more tragically portrayed, while the painfulness of the situation is relieved by the exquisite attractiveness and ultimate felicity of the heroine, and the humor of the scenes of village life."—Illustrated London News.

"It is a really artistic composition, with a sound moral expressed, though not obtruded, on the canvas. . . . A very bold and trenchant attack on Orthodoxy, and the earnestness with which it is made throughout is not marred by the grace and humor with which its lighter passages are told."—Westminster Review.

Issues of the Age; or, Consequences Involved in Modern Thought. By HENRY C. PEDDER. 1 vol., extra cloth, 188 pp. $1.50.

A Few Words About the Devil, and other Biographical Sketches and Essays. By CHARLES BRADLAUGH. 1 vol., cloth, 258 pp. $1.50.

This is rich and racy, and contains an Autobiography and fine portrait (of Mr. B., not of the Devil). The most sarcastic and humorous volume of the year.

Epidemic Delusions. By Dr. FREDERIC R. MARVIN, Professor of Psychological Medicine and Medical Jurisprudence in the New-York Free Medical College for Women. Pamphlet form, 25 cents; limp cloth, 50 cents.

"Entertaining and instructive to a high degree."—The Israelite.

"Dr. Marvin is one of the rising young thinkers. The lecture certainly exhibits depth of research and breadth of observation. . . . This brilliant lecture has been handsomely published."—Troy Press.

"A popular essay illustrating the influence of general laws in the prevalence of moral and criminal epidemics, or the fact of certain forms of vice and crime seizing on many persons at the same time. . . . The essay shows a certain freedom and even boldness of thought."—New-York Tribune.

"We bear testimony to the candor and vigor with which it sets forth important facts bearing upon some of the wildest, saddest phases of human experience."—Christian Union.

Philosophy of Spiritualism, and the Pathology and Treatment of Mediomania. Two Lectures read before the New-York Liberal Club, March 20 and 27, 1874. By the same author. Paper, 50 cents; extra cloth, $1.00.

"He gives promise of gaining a reputation in this country equal to that of Maudsley in England."—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

"This is a handsomely gotten up volume, and its contents are worthy of earnest consideration."—New-Haven Palladium.

"Two able and somewhat remarkable and suggestive lectures."—Zion's Herald.

"It is decidedly sharp."—Christian Statesman.

"His book is a counterpoise to the book of Wallace."—Christian Register.

"Infinitely superior to the usual methods by which Spiritualism is attacked."—Toledo Journal.

"It is desirable in the interest of truth that the little book should be disseminated as widely as possible."—Jewish Times.

"It takes an entirely original view of the subject of Spiritualism, and of the condition called mediumistic."—Sunday Journal.

"The author's analysis of nervous and mental phenomena is sharply scientific, while his pathological theories are rational, clear, and modern."—Medical Review.

LONG-LIVED BOOKS.

Tyndall's Great Inaugural. Complete (as per manuscript). "Advancement of Science." Being the Inaugural Address before the British Association for the Advancement of Science, at Belfast, August 19, 1874, by the President, JOHN TYNDALL, D.C.L., LL.D., F.R.S., with fine Portrait and Biographical Sketch. Also, a descriptive Essay by Prof. H. HELMHOLTZ, with Sir HENRY THOMPSON and Prof TYNDALL'S FAMOUS ARTICLES ON PRAYER, together on heavy tinted paper, in extra cloth $1. The same, in pamphlet form, cheaper paper, 50 cents; Inaugural and Portrait only, 25 cents.

The Martyrdom of Man. By WINWOOD READE. 12mo, cloth, 543 pp., $3.00.

"It is really a remarkable book, in which universal history is 'boiled down' with surprising skill."—Literary World.

"The martyrdom of the race appears in the influence which war, slavery, religion, and other such evils have exerted upon it."—Morning Star.

"The sketch of early Egyptian history in the first chapter is a masterpiece of historical writing. He has a style that reminds us of Macaulay."—Penn Monthly.

"Reminds us strikingly of Gibbon."—New-Haven Palladium.

"You turn over his pages with a fascination similar to that experienced in reading Washington Irving."—Inter-Ocean.

"A tragedy of many acts. . . . Like groups in some grand pageant, the procession of empires rolls by."—Southern Magazine.

"But in his narration of events the writer conforms closely to the authorities."—Chicago Tribune.

"Whoever would be jostled into attention and led into unwonted channels of thought will find this volume full of interest and often of delight."—New Covenant.

"The book is printed on clear white paper, from large type, and is a handsome volume."—New-Bedford Standard.

The Safest Creed, and Twelve other Recent Discourses of Reason. By O. B. FROTHINGHAM. Cloth, beveled, tinted paper, 12mo. New Edition. $1.50.

"Manifest deep thought, thorough conviction, and great ability."—Philadelphia Press.

"None of his contemporaries can approach him in elegance of diction."—Albany Evening Journal.

"On what is human, natural, practical, useful, and liberal, he is very conclusive, instructive, and gratifying, and gems of this kind are sparkling on every page of 'The Safest Creed.'"—Boston Investigator.

Ancient Sex Worship. 70 pp., 26 illustrations, 12mo, paper, 50 cts.; extra cloth, beveled, $1.00.

"Containing much mythological lore and a chapter on the Phalli of California. . . . A work of interest to scholars."—New Bedford Standard.

"To the investigator of early religious history, who can view all evidence without prejudice. . . . entertainment undeniably fresh."—Literary World.

"A curious, learned, and painfully suggestive book. It is evident that especial pains is taken to deal delicately with the subject."—Chicago Journal.

"The attempt is to show that the cross, as a religious emblem, is much older than Jesus Christ, and to trace in the religions of to-day the relics of ancient passionate worship. Much research and deep scholarship are displayed, and the work is high-toned, but is not designed for immature minds."—Portland Transcript.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

IN PRESS, FOR IMMEDIATE PUBLICATION.

OUR HELEN. A companion volume to "The Doctor's Daughter." 12mo. Illustrated. $1.75. (Nearly ready.)

The author of "The Doctor's Daughter" may confidently anticipate a hearty welcome at the hands of the reading public. Her present book, like that which preceded it, is a story of rural New-England life, pure and wholesome, with a slight admixture of city life, just enough to afford a pleasant contrast between the customs of town and country.

FOR BETTER OR WORSE. A Book for Some Men and All Women. By Mrs. J. CUNNINGHAM CROLY (Jennie June). 12mo. $1.50.

In her papers on Marriage, Mrs. Croly gives some practical and sensible ideas and suggestions regarding the subject. Apart from exceptional evils and false or mistaken ideas, marriage as it exists is open to criticism, because it places men and women in false positions; and what these positions are, wherein they are false, and how they may be improved, it is the object of the writer to show.

THE PUDDLEFORD PAPERS; or, Humors of the West. By H. H. RILEY. 12mo. Illustrated. $1.50. New enlarged edition.

This book deals with the humors of the West, though there is something beside fun within its covers. The reader will discover an undercurrent of seriousness pervading its pages, and will gain an insight into the manners, customs, and hardships incident to life in a new country.

THE ISLAND OF FIRE; or, A Thousand Years of the Old Northmen's Home. 874-1874. By Rev. P. C. HEADLEY, author of "Life of Empress Josephine." 16mo. Illustrated. $1.50.

Mr. Headley has striven to comprise in this volume the most salient points in the history of the kindly, honest, intelligent inhabitants of Iceland, some of the most remarkable of their poems and sagas, and an account of the curious natural phenomena which exist on the island, together with a sketch of the proceedings of the millennium anniversary. The book will be fully illustrated.

THE MORALS OF ABOU BEN ADHEM. Eastern Fruit on Western Dishes. Edited by D. R. LOCKE (Nasby). A Satire on Politics and Society at the Present Day. 12mo. $1.50.

Mr. D. R. Locke (Nasby) has acquired a reputation as a satirist second to no other in the country. As Nast ranks the highest among caricaturists, so Locke occupies a similar position in his special department. The one performs effective service with his pencil, and the pen in the hands of the other is a powerful weapon in exposing the shams of political and social life.

THAT QUEER GIRL. By VIRGINIA F. TOWNSEND, Author of "Only Girls." 16mo. Illustrated. $1.50.

Of one of Miss Townsend's previous books the New-York Journal of Commerce says: "A very pure, sweet book—a violet among the passion-flowers of modern romance. It is refreshing to lay hold of a story by a woman, in which the heroes are not bigamists or blackguards, nor the heroines pillars of erotic fire, ever moving in a whirlwind. The style is uncommonly simple, direct, and strong."

CHILD OF THE TIDE. By Mrs. E. D. CHENEY, Author of "The Mountain Girl." 16mo. Illustrated. $1.50.

The scene of the story is laid in the vicinity of St. John, N. B., and is founded on some facts in the experience of a gentleman occupying a prominent social position in that city. It thus possesses the charm of being to some extent, at least, a record of events that have actually taken place.

JUST ISSUED.

The Academy Squadron Heard from.

SUNNY SHORES; OR, YOUNG AMERICA IN ITALY AND AUSTRIA. By OLIVER OPTIC. 16mo. Illustrated. $1.50. The fourth volume of the Second Series of "Young America Abroad."

By the Author of "The Dodge Club."

THE LILY AND THE CROSS. A Tale of Acadia. By Prof. DE MILLE. 12mo. Illustrated. $1.50.

The scene of the story is laid in Nova Scotia, the ancient Acadia of the early French settlers.

RUNNING TO WASTE. The Story of a Tomboy. By GEORGE M. BAKER, Author of "Amateur Dramas." 16mo. Illustrated. $1.50.

"We trust, now that Mr. Baker has begun, that he will keep his hand in, for he has given us a really wide-awake story that hasn't a dull page in it."—Morning Star, Dover.

For the Little Folks.

"TAKE A PEEP." By PAUL COBDEN. 16mo. Illustrated. $1.25.

The fifth volume of the "Beckoning Series."

Old Testament History Dramatized.

SACRED DRAMAS. By the Rev. JAMES BOXER. 12mo. $1.50.

"This work is specially adapted for Church and Sunday-School Exhibitions. It is written in a clear and dignified style, aiming to be true to history, and yet so to recast the story as to awaken a new interest in it by pleasing the fancy and touching the emotions."—Christian Standard, N. Y.

A Brilliant Novel.

KATHERINE EARLE. A Novel. By ADELINE TRAFTON, Author of "An American Girl Abroad." 12mo. Illustrated. $1.75.

"A bright, fresh fiction."—Spy, Worcester.
